PURCHASING PROCESS

Conger gives you the ability to purchase your material handling equipment with or without an open credit account. Once you sign the quote for the equipment, the purchasing process begins.

No Open Credit Account

Without an open credit account, Conger requires a full or partial down payment prior to ordering your equipment. After the order is completed, full payment is required before delivery. Choose either check or cash for all items over $2,000. For Allied products with a value less than $2,000 feel free to use your credit card.

Open Credit Account

Following the receipt of your signed quote, we'll review your open account to ensure that the credit limit will cover your purchase. You'll receive an invoice for payment after the delivery of your equipment. Though payment terms vary, they are typically set at net 10. all items over $2,000. For Allied products with a value less than $2,000 feel free to use your credit card.

While it isn't required to have an open credit account with Conger to purchase your equipment, we encourage you to use one. This system allows us to provide you with the most efficient service possible.

For more information on opening a credit account with Conger please refer to our credit application.
